Lone Mishawaka Guest at South Bend Round Table Tells 'em About Our Industries and Business

Mishawaka's "Isaac Kane" Parks helped to put his home town on the map at the December meeting of the Round Table, one of the oldest social and professional organizations in Indiana. He was learned yesterday that Atty. Parks was the only Mishawaka at the Round Table banquet at the South Bend hotel last week and enjoyed the meeting by telling the Round Table members that there is a Mishawaka at the front rank commercially and industrially.

The subject of the evening, presented by Rev. Archibald McCreary, D. D., of the First Presbyterian church, South Bend, had for its title "The Brotherhood of Man and the Brotherhood of God."

"Not the Only Town." It was in the general discussion that ensued after the presentation of the evening's theme, that the doughty Mishawaka attorney took the floor to discuss the paper, and to reply to a series of points raised by fellow members. The assembly made up mostly of South Bend members, says Mr. Parks himself. Touching upon what Atty. Parks declared to be the narrowest kind of provincialism in continued and repeated self-adulation of our South Bend industry by South Benders alone, he called a halt by announcing that although South Bend is "world-famous," it is not the only town in the world today commercially speaking. "I don't see any brotherly love, or the brotherhood of man spirit in continued repetition at the banquet table that according to Babson, the financial expert, South Bend is the brightest spot on the map today," said the attorney.

"This might be of particular avail if the statement were made in Chicago, Los Angeles, in London or any other foreign trade center, but right here in St. Joseph county it reveals too small an outlook upon the part of those employing it."

"Isaac might be excused, writing from the distance of a thousand miles, on the subject, but not so for a South Bender to a South Bend audience of advocates of brotherly love. For, I beg to remind you that while, as stated here often, I think that the city's peculiarly fortunate position in the trade world is based upon the activity of a certain well known industry, it is a known fact that the industry in question never boasted a payroll of over 10,000 employees and that for months they have been working short time, down to as low as two days per week."

"Contrast Furnished." "During this period another industry in another city has furnished us an interesting contrast. In the matter of employment, just four miles up the river from where we sit, the Mishawaka Woolen Manufacturing Co., I beg to remind you, has now over 5,000 men and women on its payroll, and they work nearly six days a week, and during all this time never reduced their wages since the war."

"The audience caught the import of the redoubtable Isaac's words and at once responded heartily, apparently enjoying having been gently rebuked out of their smug satisfaction with their own town."

Atty. Parks, after "standing up" for Mishawaka, used the rest of the time allotted to him in a good natured running debate, during which, as the story runs on the street and wherever Round Table members assemble.

The club, composed of a membership limited to less than 100, on this occasion learned that while South Bend has talk artists and industrial establishments, Mishawaka, too, is a seat of industry and boasts a few of its citizens who can say their say, if properly provoked.

RED CROSS DRIVE CLOSES WITH $2,000; WORKERS PLEASSED

Total Is $135 Less Than 1920, but Larger Cash Total Remains Here.

Frank E. Coats, chairman of the Annual Red Cross roll call drive last night announced that the 1921 drive was ended. Approximately two thousand dollars has been secured. This sum is $145 behind the 1920 drive total but it is expected that when final returns are in the total will exceed the 1920 figure of $2135.

Chairman Coats and his workers are highly pleased at the showing and this feeling is largely due to the fact that general business conditions and the uncertainty of the future tended to restrain the usual spontaneity of subscriptions.

"Contrary to the general impression," said Chairman Coats, "we secured our subscriptions to slightly more than one week's actual campaign. I feel much beholden to the splendid men and women who served on the various committees and to the banks of Mishawaka, all of which have been of great cooperation. In these uncertain times, and coming at the end of a three year period of drives, we have every reason to congratulate ourselves at the result."

Roll of Cash Stays Here. Of the total subscribed approximately $200 will be remitted to national headquarters at Washington, the balance being available for Red Cross work in Mishawaka. This home service department of the local chapter will have about $180 for the next 12 months as against $120 for the past 12 months.

The total subscriptions obtained in Mishawaka are at the same ratio as those of South Bend. It is reported that South Bend with its approximate $9,000 population has subscribed some $8,000 for the Red Cross drive, or about 10 cents per capita. Mishawaka, with its population of about 17,000 subscribed $2,000, or a per capita of about 10 and one-fourth cents.

The funds of the Red Cross subscriptions will, for the first time, be divided among the four local banks on a percentage basis, for deposit. Frank E. Coats, treasurer of the fund.

City Divided in Sections. The city was divided into ten sections for the drive, each section being in charge of a chairman and a captain. During the course of the drive many volunteer workers were used and a careful canvass made of the entire city.

The business section of the south side was taken care of by the First National bank and First Savings and Trust company.

Section 2 comprised the north side business district and was taken care of by the North Side Trust and Savings bank. The business section of the west end was looked after by the West End State bank.

YEGGS BLOW SAFE AND START BLAZE IN GAMBLING DEN

Monarka Club Rooms, Gustafson Joint, Damaged in Unsuccessful Robbery.

An over-load of nitro-glycerine operated by burglars against a safe door in the Monarka club rooms, 124 1/2 W. Washington av., besides blowing the door of the safe against an opposite wall, brought out the fire department shortly before the Saturday morning. Damage by fire was small. The burglary attempt was unsuccessful, it is said, there being no money in the safe.

The fire, which destroyed curtains draped over the windows and doors of the room in which the safe was located, was quickly put out by the prompt arrival of a chemical wagon from the Central station. A mattress, which had been removed from a cot and used by the burglars to escape the safe to deaden the noise of the explosion, was entirely destroyed. The blaze was the result of the force of the explosion breaking a "celling rosette, cross-circuiting electric wires."

"Gelling Cloth" Burns. The scene of the most recent safe-blowing activity and fire is one of the longest established and most popular gambling resorts in the city.

Following the "tip" which went out Wednesday night affecting the closing of gambling resorts, Frank Gustafson, the proprietor, had tipped the fare and poker tables on end in an opposite corner from the safe.

The fire, which started near the table, partially destroyed them before the fire department could extinguish the blaze.

The blowing of the safe was the work of amateurs. A kit of mechanic's tools, including a breast drill, an iron wrecker, used for opening boxes, and three hack-saw blades, in addition to a felt hat, was left by the burglars, who, evidently frightened away from the scene, sought safety, soon after the fire, forgetting to take with them their belongings.

HAWAIIAN LAND IS VALUED FOR WATER. HONOLULU, Dec. 10.—Transfer of title to the only tract of land known to have been granted by the chiefs of old Hawaii to the early missionaries has just been completed. The title going from the heirs of the Coast, Laysan and Wakeham families to whom the grant was made, to the Hawaiian Evangelical association of Honolulu.

The land, for the most part an old lava flow extending for several miles into the city, was owned by Hilo, and was given to its original owners by one of the chiefs of Hawaii as a personal reward for their altruistic services to the Hawaiian people.

As there was no such thing as individual land ownership in Hawaii at that time, the title to the land was considered the property of the chiefs. The gift of this sort was considered very remarkable. The land is valuable for its water rights, which are now leased to one of the sugar plantations.

$100 REWARD. Will be paid anyone showing a machine sold regularly by any store anywhere at one hundred dollars or less that will equal our special sale machine in size and quality that we are selling for $75.00 cash or $85.00 on terms. The C. W. Copp Music Shop. Shop open every evening. 345-ft.

Text of Pacific Treaty Agreed Upon by Envoys at U. S. Parley

The United States, Great Britain, France and Japan with a view to the preservation of the general peace and the maintenance of their rights in relation to their insular possessions and insular dominions in the region of the Pacific ocean, have determined to conclude a treaty to this effect and have adopted as their plenipotentiaries:

The president of the United States of America.

His majesty, the king of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and of the British dominions beyond the seas, emperor of India and for the dominion of Canada.

For the commonwealth of Australia.

For the dominion of New Zealand.

For India.

The president of the French republic.

His majesty, the emperor of Japan.

Who having communicated their full powers, found in good and due form, have agreed as follows:

1.—The high contracting parties agree as between themselves to respect their rights in relation to their insular possessions and insular dominions in the region of the Pacific ocean.

If there should develop between any of the high contracting parties, a controversy arising out of any Pacific question that would involve their said rights which is not satisfactorily settled by diplomacy and is likely to affect the harmonious accord now happily subsisting between them, they shall invite the other high contracting parties to a joint conference to which the whole subject will be referred for consideration and adjustment.

2.—If the said rights are threatened by the aggressive action of any other power, the high contracting parties shall communicate with one another fully and frankly in order to arrive at an understanding as to the most efficient measures to be taken, jointly or separately, to meet the exigencies of the particular situation.

3.—This agreement shall remain in force for 10 years from the time it shall take effect, and after the expiration of said period it shall continue to be in force subject to the right of any of the high contracting parties to terminate it upon 12 months' notice.

4.—This agreement shall be ratified as soon as possible in accordance with the constitutional methods of the high contracting parties and shall take effect on the deposit of ratifications, which shall take place at Washington, and thereupon the agreement between Great Britain and Japan, which was concluded at London on July 13, 1911, shall terminate:

SHIP BLOWS UP, SCORES INJURED

One Killed When Oil Tanker Explodes in Providence Harbor Today.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Dec. 10.—One man was instantly killed and more than a score of others had narrow escapes from death here today when the Standard oil tanker Comet blew up.

The dead man, Thomas Amplin of Boston, was literally blown to pieces. The tanker immediately burst into flames and for a time neighboring shipping and buildings were endangered.

The tug Standard Oil got a line onto the burning vessel and towed her out into the river. Then explosion rocked buildings on both sides of the river.

FANCY NAMES GIVEN NEW BABY GIRLS

DENVER, Dec. 10.—The good old names of Lucy, Jenny, Mary and Molly find no favor among young parents of girl babies in Denver.

Future debutantes of Denver will be known as Shirley, Lorraine, Elizabeth and the four apocryphal, Cathryn, Katherine and Kathryn.

Investigation of the birth records of the city shows that the Shirley and Lorraine have it by a large majority. They even win over the 1890 models of Thelma and Marjorie.

The male partners for the Shirley and Lorraine in 1940 Denver society will be known as Robert and Joseph. These two, the records show, are far out in front of Edward, William, James and Thomas.

Good old John is being supplanted, officially on the records by Jack, Algernon, Hector and Ethelbert are extremely scarce.

MARRIAGE OF CAIN STIRS UP HONOLULU

HONOLULU, T. H., Dec. 10.—The question "Who Was Cain's Wife?" propounded on the feature page of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin, has brought forth a flood of letters which challenge to swamp the paper's editorial department and which, in the multiplicity of opinions expressed, seem likely to involve the entire English-speaking population of the city in a violent religious controversy.

The opinion, variously expressed, that Cain married one of his own sisters appears to be the most popular. To back this and other opinions many authorities are quoted, including different versions of the Bible, Darwin, Dena and other scientists.

The controversy has now been running for several weeks, an average of two columns a day in the paper being devoted to printing letters received dealing with the question.
